

DR. DESTENIE NOCK

AUTHOR, SPEAKER, ACADEMIC, LEADER

Dr. Destenie Nock is a Professor in the Department of Civil & Environmental Engineering and the Department of Engineering & Public Policy at Carnegie Mellon University. She is also the Founder and CEO of Peoples Energy Analytics, a company dedicated to advancing energy equity through data-driven solutions.

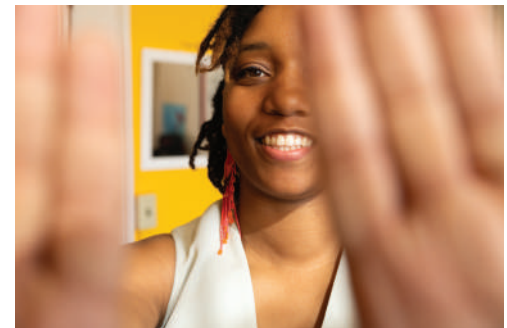

Her research focuses on the intersection of energy poverty, climate change, and decarbonization. She investigates how energy insecurity affects vulnerable populations and develops innovative approaches to ensure equitable access to clean, affordable energy.

A sought-after speaker and commentator, Dr. Nock has appeared on CNBC, NPR, NewsNation, and other major media outlets. She brings both rigorous academic expertise and real-world entrepreneurial experience to discussions about energy justice.

Dr. Nock is a recipient of multiple National Science Foundation awards, a Google Innovation Grant, and a Scott Institute for Energy Innovation Fellowship.

MEDIA SAMPLES

- ▶ Carnegie Mellon University
- ▶ Peoples Energy Analytics
- ▶ YouTube channel

EXPERTISE

- Energy affordability and utility customer protection
- Energy justice and climate equity
- Extreme heat and winter risk management
- Residential energy usage
- Energy insecurity and energy poverty

BOOKING INQUIRIES

Alaina Phillips
alaina@peoplesenergyanalytics.com